

AFTER RAILROAD COMBINES.

GENERAL INQUIRY TO BE BEGUN IN CHICAGO ON WEDNESDAY.

Interstate Commerce Commission Subpoenas Many Railroad Men to Explain "Community of Interest" Combinations, and Especially the Northern Securities Co.

Several conferences have been held in Washington lately by the members of the Interstate Commerce Commission on the general subject of the "Community of Interest" combinations that have lately become so popular with railroads. The particular combination that has been the subject of investigation is that known as the Northern Securities Company, which is owned by J. P. Morgan and other financiers. The commission has decided to move against the combination at once and the opening gun will be fired in Chicago on Wednesday next.

The Interstate Commerce Commission two weeks ago issued the following order officially described as: "In the matter of consolidations and combinations of carriers subject to the act to regulate commerce, including the method of association known as the 'Community of Interest Plan.'"

Whereas, The twelfth section of the act to regulate commerce provides authority to inquire into the management of the business of all common carriers subject to the provisions of the act, and shall keep itself informed as to the manner and method in which the same is conducted; and requires the commission to execute and enforce the provisions of this act; and

Whereas, It appears to the commission that certain consolidations and combinations of carriers subject to the act, including the method of association, known as the "Community of Interest Plan," to the end that the commission may be informed as to their formation, proposed purposes and modes of operation, together with their effect upon the movement of interstate commerce and the rates received therefor, and to the further end that it may be ascertained whether such consolidations, combinations and methods of association have the effect of violating any of its provisions.

Ordered, That a proceeding of investigation and inquiry into and concerning the matters above recited be and the same is hereby instituted, and that such proceedings be set for hearing at the United States court room, Monahan Block, in the city of Chicago, Ill., on the 15th day of January, 1902, at 10 o'clock A. M., the further hearing to be continued at such times and places as may appear to be required.

In pursuance of this order, the commission last Saturday issued subpoenas for a large number of parties directly connected with the management of the railroads aimed at, to appear in Chicago, on Wednesday and give testimony. It is understood that there is to be a general and determined fight all along the line and that the investigation be continued in New York at an early date. Evidently the Interstate Commerce Commission means to examine every phase of the railroad combination, including the purchase of the Southern Pacific by the Union Pacific, the Northern Pacific's control of the Burlington, and all other specific instances of what they regard as a violation of the Interstate Commerce act.

Senator Foster of Washington is taking an active interest in the movement against the railroad combinations. He says the formation of the Northern Securities Company is directly in violation of the Sherman Anti-Trust law and that they can be successfully prosecuted under the Supreme Court decision in the Trans-Missouri Freight Association and the Joint Traffic Association cases. Senator Foster says if he were more influential moved in the matter he would undertake to bring the subject to the attention of the President and Attorney-General and urge them to set the machinery of the United States courts in motion to protect the country against these "unlawful combines."

COLLISION ON A BRIDGE.

Three Locomotives, Two Trains and the Bridge Itself Destroyed.

CONCORD, N. H., Jan. 2.—A collision between a freight and gravel train on a bridge spanning the Pemigewasset River at Bridgewater on the White Mountain division of the Boston and Maine road this morning resulted in the destruction of the bridge, the demolition of three locomotives, the serious injury of the engineer of the gravel train and the tying up of traffic on the division.

The bridge was a wooden structure about four hundred feet long, and the deck was fifty feet above the surface of the water. The gravel train was sent out from Plymouth, N. H., at 10 o'clock, and was bringing four train loads of gravel down grade, when they saw that it was impossible they jumped just before the bridge had been reached, and as a result the locomotive of the gravel train dropped through the bridge struts to the ice below.

REJECTS MRS. MOORE'S GIFTS.

Allegation of Greedy Vultures That They Destroyed the Self-Supporting of a Community.

BIRMINGHAM, N. Y. Jan. 3.—The residents of the village of Greedy, by a vote of 160 to 40 rejected three offers made by Mrs. E. B. Moore, mother of the Moore brothers of New York and Chicago, who made millions by organizing the Flood, Steel and Biscuit Trust. The vote was the result of a hot campaign, lasting over eight months, in which the question of accepting a free offer for a $100,000 annual building offered by Mrs. Moore was thoroughly discussed. The opponents of the gift argued that it was detrimental to a community to accept donations when there were always strange influences that made the community a laughing stock of a neighbor. It was argued that the gift was a bribe to the community and that the Moore family were constantly receiving further public honors and donations from the community. The Moore family were rejected by the community and the village was left to its own devices.

RAILWAY STATISTICS OF AMERICA.

The United States Railway Statistics for the year 1901 are now being compiled. The statistics show that the total mileage of the railways in the United States is 220,000 miles. The total freight tonnage is 1,000,000,000 tons. The total passenger tonnage is 1,000,000,000 tons. The total revenue is $1,000,000,000.

WOMAN PHYSICIAN'S SUICIDE.

Dr. Elizabeth A. Darby Shoots Herself at a Hotel in Providence.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Jan. 2.—With a cry of "Oh, I am going to end it all," Dr. Elizabeth A. Darby, a lodger at the Narragansett Hotel, sent a bullet into her brain, as she and her female companion, Dr. Kate E. Flanagan, had just ended a conversation in their room last night on the third floor of the hotel. The woman left a note asking that her body be sent to Bordentown, N. J., and saying that she had died of a heart ailment. On Dec. 15, Dr. Darby and Dr. Flanagan registered at the Narragansett Hotel and were assigned to a large room on the third floor. Yesterday Dr. Darby paid a visit to Boston, according to the report of the hotel. During the evening Miss Flanagan says that she and her companion remained in the room and talked on various subjects. Dr. Darby, being apparently in good spirits and showing no signs of depression.

As near as Miss Flanagan can remember it came about 10 o'clock, as she was lying in bed, when she heard Dr. Darby say: "Oh, I am going to end it all. Alas, I am in a bad way." Flanagan said, she knew what was about to happen, and she rushed toward the door screaming for help. Before she had gone far the sound of a shot rang out, and turning she beheld the form of Dr. Darby lying across her bed with a revolver beside her. The bullet passed through the brain.

Miss Darby was a native of Bordentown, N. J., where her father and brother still reside. The police explain that an attempt to kill Miss Ellen H. Stone, the captive American missionary, and her companion, Mme. Tsilka, were alive and well on Dec. 28.

An official of the State Department said to-night that no confirmation had been received of the reported release of Miss Stone. "I will say," he added, "that the last word received to-day was favorable to such a result; that is, it was fairly reasonable to conclude from what was telegraphed that terms of release might be agreed upon very soon, and it may be that this has happened."

Miss Stone was abducted by brigands on Sept. 3, last, while travelling between Banash and Djumash in the mountainous country lying between Turkey and Bulgaria. There were eighteen in her party, but the brigands detained only Miss Stone and Mme. Tsilka, the wife of a preacher. The death of the latter while in the brigands' hands has been frequently reported and as often denied. A report of Miss Stone's death, about a month ago, caused great anxiety, and was not proved false until several days had passed.

Miss Stone was born in Roxbury, Mass., and went out as a missionary of the American Board in 1878. It is believed that she was an account of her connection with the American Board that the brigands selected Miss Stone, as they counted on the missionary association providing a ransom for her release. This she heard at first refused to do, holding that the offer of a ransom would be a bad precedent and endanger the lives of all its missionaries.

The American Board laid the matter of the abduction before President Roosevelt, and one of his first acts as President was to set out for the rescue of Miss Stone. The diplomatic side of the matter was not neglected, and strong representations were made to the Governments of Turkey and Bulgaria. Direct efforts looking toward Miss Stone's release were entrusted to the hands of Consul-General Dickinson at Constantinople, who, as a diplomatic agent, went to Sofia and conducted negotiations for her release.

On Sept. 2, Miss Stone got through to Constantinople, where she was met by the American Board, and she was taken to the American Board's headquarters. She was released on Oct. 4, and she was taken to the American Board's headquarters. She was released on Oct. 4, and she was taken to the American Board's headquarters.

BRIDE UNDER 16; GROOM 17.

Parents of Miss Havens and Frank Mottram Will Try to Annul the Marriage.

NEWBURGH, Jan. 2.—Indignant parents will attempt to annul the marriage of Miss Katharine Havens of Fishkill Landing and Frank Mottram of Brooklyn, whose secret wedding has just been disclosed by the girl's bride to her parents. Miss Havens is the daughter of a prominent family in the Fishkill community. Her next birthday in May she will be 16 years old. Her husband is not 17. Young Mottram reached Matineawan less than two months ago with his father, who is foreman of masons on the new Highland Hospital. While returning from school one day six weeks ago, Miss Havens met young Mottram, who was a student at the same school. They were introduced by a mutual friend. They were married on Saturday, Nov. 7, at the residence of the bride's father. The bride's father, who is a prominent family in the Fishkill community, is a member of the Episcopal Church. The groom's father is a member of the same church. The marriage was a secret one, and the parents of both parties were not informed of it until it was disclosed by the girl's bride to her parents.

OFF FOR LIFE-DWELLERS' LAND.

To Study Physical Characteristics of Living and Extinct Peoples.

In A. H. Huxley will start to-day on his fourth expedition among the Indians of the southwestern United States and northern Mexico. These expeditions are a part of the system of anthropological explorations and investigations carried on by the Hyde expedition for the American Museum of Natural History under the direction of Prof. H. W. Henshaw. The expenses of this undertaking are provided for by Mr. E. E. Hyde, Jr., of New York. In Huxley's charge of the expedition is a large number of men, and his plan, now more than half fulfilled, is, in the main, to ascertain the physical characteristics of the various Indian tribes living in the region. He will also study the physical characteristics of the extinct peoples of the region. The expedition will be a long one, and it will be a very important one.

SHIRAZI MATHEMATICS A FUM.

Found on One of the Tablets Found; One of the Most Important and Important.

One of the most important and important of the tablets found in the ruins of the ancient city of Shiraz, Persia, has been found. The tablet is a piece of clay, and it contains a list of numbers. The numbers are written in cuneiform characters. The tablet is a very important one, as it is the only one of its kind that has been found. It is a very important one, as it is the only one of its kind that has been found. It is a very important one, as it is the only one of its kind that has been found.

BRIGANDS FREE MISS STONE?

VIENNA REPORT FROM SOFIA HAS THE NEWS.

With Mme. Tsilka Known to Have Been Alive and Well on Dec. 28—Abduction on Sept. 3, 80 Prisoners Have Been in Captivity Four Months to a Day.

Special Cable Dispatch to THE SUN. LONDON, Jan. 2.—A despatch to the Central News from Vienna says it is reported from Sofia that Miss Stone, the abducted American missionary, has been released by her captors. The Telegraph's Sofia correspondent says that an unconfirmed rumor is current there to the effect that Miss Stone and her companion, Mme. Tsilka, were released on Wednesday on Turkish territory by their captors. Those who negotiated for their release consented to the brigands' stipulation that the ladies should maintain absolute silence respecting their captors. If this promise is broken the brigands threaten to take vengeance on the American missionary establishment.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 2.—The State Department to-day received advice from the United States Legation in Constantinople that Miss Ellen H. Stone, the captive American missionary, and her companion, Mme. Tsilka, were alive and well on Dec. 28.

An official of the State Department said to-night that no confirmation had been received of the reported release of Miss Stone. "I will say," he added, "that the last word received to-day was favorable to such a result; that is, it was fairly reasonable to conclude from what was telegraphed that terms of release might be agreed upon very soon, and it may be that this has happened."

Miss Stone was abducted by brigands on Sept. 3, last, while travelling between Banash and Djumash in the mountainous country lying between Turkey and Bulgaria. There were eighteen in her party, but the brigands detained only Miss Stone and Mme. Tsilka, the wife of a preacher. The death of the latter while in the brigands' hands has been frequently reported and as often denied. A report of Miss Stone's death, about a month ago, caused great anxiety, and was not proved false until several days had passed.

Miss Stone was born in Roxbury, Mass., and went out as a missionary of the American Board in 1878. It is believed that she was an account of her connection with the American Board that the brigands selected Miss Stone, as they counted on the missionary association providing a ransom for her release. This she heard at first refused to do, holding that the offer of a ransom would be a bad precedent and endanger the lives of all its missionaries.

The American Board laid the matter of the abduction before President Roosevelt, and one of his first acts as President was to set out for the rescue of Miss Stone. The diplomatic side of the matter was not neglected, and strong representations were made to the Governments of Turkey and Bulgaria. Direct efforts looking toward Miss Stone's release were entrusted to the hands of Consul-General Dickinson at Constantinople, who, as a diplomatic agent, went to Sofia and conducted negotiations for her release.

On Sept. 2, Miss Stone got through to Constantinople, where she was met by the American Board, and she was taken to the American Board's headquarters. She was released on Oct. 4, and she was taken to the American Board's headquarters.

On Sept. 2, Miss Stone got through to Constantinople, where she was met by the American Board, and she was taken to the American Board's headquarters. She was released on Oct. 4, and she was taken to the American Board's headquarters.

CHILE'S THREAT TO MEXICO.

Would Break Diplomatic Relations Because of Arbitration Case.

CITY OF MEXICO, Jan. 2.—An arbitration case that occupies the attention of all delegates to the Pan-American Congress. It seems that Chile went further than merely to threaten to leave the congress. Her delegates also threatened to break diplomatic relations with Mexico unless that Government succeeded in preventing the presentation of the arbitration case to the conference. This unquestionably annoyed the Mexicans. President Diaz expressed indignantly his surprise and displeasure. It is hardly clear exactly what the Chileans expected the Mexicans to do.

The Mexican Government, of course, can't accept what practically amounts to Chilean dictation. The general impression among delegates is that Chile has a strong motive in desiring that was tantamount to an ultimatum. When Chile made the bluff, Mexico was obliged to call it bluff. Chile, however, has not yet decided whether to leave the conference. The general opinion is that it won't do so. The conference, although it has not decided that it would have a bad effect.

A Chilean delegate said to-day in explanation of the threat to break diplomatic relations that Chile accepted the invitation to attend the conference because Mexico, whether or not it accepted the invitation, would be bound to accept it. Chile then threatened through Ambassador Clayton that it would withdraw its delegates from the conference unless Mexico accepted the invitation.

ANOTHER SHIPPING RUMOR.

This One Mr. Morgan Combining American and English Lines.

Special Cable Dispatch to THE SUN. LONDON, Jan. 2.—An interesting story of American absorption of English shipping again crops up in the form of a rumor that Mr. J. P. Morgan is acting as the agent to effect a combination of the American and English lines. The Daily Express, which is responsible for the rumor, states that it cannot be confirmed.

PERCY CHURCH CARRIED HER.

Young Woman Who Had Broken Her Leg Went From Train to Fall in Her Arms.

FRANCIS CHURCH, the famous actor, was taken to the hospital last night by a young woman who had broken her leg. The woman was carried in his arms. The woman was a young girl, and she was a very beautiful one. She was a very beautiful one, and she was a very beautiful one. She was a very beautiful one, and she was a very beautiful one.

BERN IN ROMAN CLOTHES.

Young Man Who Had Broken His Leg Went From Train to Fall in Her Arms.

BERN, Jan. 2.—A young man who had broken his leg was carried in his arms by a young woman. The woman was a very beautiful one, and she was a very beautiful one. She was a very beautiful one, and she was a very beautiful one. She was a very beautiful one, and she was a very beautiful one.

POPE ORDERS BIBLE CONGRESS.

Catholic Scholars Throughout the World May State Their Views.

Special Cable Dispatch to THE SUN. LONDON, Jan. 2.—The Tablet announces as a matter of the profoundest interest to the whole Christian world that the Pope has appointed a special Pontifical commission to consider all questions connected with Biblical studies.

Catholic scholars throughout the world will have the fullest opportunity of stating their views and difficulties, bringing them to the direct notice of the Holy See. Cardinal Parocchi, dean of the Sacred College, is President of the commission, and Cardinal Segna, Prefect of the Vatican Archives, and Cardinal Vives y Tuto are assessors. There will also be eleven consultants chosen from different countries.

THE KAISER'S COMPLIMENT.

Report That He Asks Miss Roosevelt to Christen His Yacht Confirmed.

Special Cable Dispatch to THE SUN. LONDON, Jan. 2.—A despatch to a news agency from Berlin confirms the report that Emperor William has requested that Miss Alice Roosevelt be allowed to christen his new yacht, which is being built in the United States.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 2.—It was given out at the White House to-night that an announcement would be made to-morrow in regard to the reported intention of Kaiser Wilhelm to ask Miss Alice Roosevelt, the daughter of the President, to christen the German imperial yacht, which is being built on Staten Island.

Officials of the White House declined to say whether the invitation had been received, but it is generally believed that it was communicated to the President through Andrew D. White, the United States Ambassador at Berlin, to whom the Kaiser yesterday signified his intention of asking Miss Roosevelt to act as sponsor for the vessel.

This invitation is taken by many in Washington to mean that the Kaiser not only intended to pay a graceful compliment to the daughter of the President, but also to answer in an emphatic way the reports of irritation between this country and Germany growing out of the Venezuelan incident.

At the State Department it was said that no communication had been received there on the subject from Dr. White.

DR. PARKER'S MESSAGE.

A Salute to President Roosevelt in London.

Special Cable Dispatch to THE SUN. LONDON, Jan. 2.—The Rev. Dr. Joseph Parker's sermon at the City Temple to-day was devoted to New Year's messages to King Edward, President Roosevelt, to Australia, Canada and the Lord Mayor of London.

The King, Dr. Parker said, was the King of the King of one Church, of one sect, of one nation, and of one kind of wire-pullers, but of the whole people. At this point the congregation sang the national anthem. Upon the conclusion of the singing Mr. Parker said:

"Great Britain and Ireland salute their young sister, President Roosevelt, who is not only a great statesman, but a great man. He is a man who is a great man, and he is a great man. He is a great man, and he is a great man. He is a great man, and he is a great man."

"Great Britain and Ireland salute their young sister, President Roosevelt, who is not only a great statesman, but a great man. He is a man who is a great man, and he is a great man. He is a great man, and he is a great man. He is a great man, and he is a great man."

"Great Britain and Ireland salute their young sister, President Roosevelt, who is not only a great statesman, but a great man. He is a man who is a great man, and he is a great man. He is a great man, and he is a great man. He is a great man, and he is a great man."

"Great Britain and Ireland salute their young sister, President Roosevelt, who is not only a great statesman, but a great man. He is a man who is a great man, and he is a great man. He is a great man, and he is a great man. He is a great man, and he is a great man."

"Great Britain and Ireland salute their young sister, President Roosevelt, who is not only a great statesman, but a great man. He is a man who is a great man, and he is a great man. He is a great man, and he is a great man. He is a great man, and he is a great man."

"Great Britain and Ireland salute their young sister, President Roosevelt, who is not only a great statesman, but a great man. He is a man who is a great man, and he is a great man. He is a great man, and he is a great man. He is a great man, and he is a great man."

"Great Britain and Ireland salute their young sister, President Roosevelt, who is not only a great statesman, but a great man. He is a man who is a great man, and he is a great man. He is a great man, and he is a great man. He is a great man, and he is a great man."

"Great Britain and Ireland salute their young sister, President Roosevelt, who is not only a great statesman, but a great man. He is a man who is a great man, and he is a great man. He is a great man, and he is a great man. He is a great man, and he is a great man."

"Great Britain and Ireland salute their young sister, President Roosevelt, who is not only a great statesman, but a great man. He is a man who is a great man, and he is a great man. He is a great man, and he is a great man. He is a great man, and he is a great man."

"Great Britain and Ireland salute their young sister, President Roosevelt, who is not only a great statesman, but a great man. He is a man who is a great man, and he is a great man. He is a great man, and he is a great man. He is a great man, and he is a great man."

"Great Britain and Ireland salute their young sister, President Roosevelt, who is not only a great statesman, but a great man. He is a man who is a great man, and he is a great man. He is a great man, and he is a great man. He is a great man, and he is a great man."

"Great Britain and Ireland salute their young sister, President Roosevelt, who is not only a great statesman, but a great man. He is a man who is a great man, and he is a great man. He is a great man, and he is a great man. He is a great man, and he is a great man."

"Great Britain and Ireland salute their young sister, President Roosevelt, who is not only a great statesman, but a great man. He is a man who is a great man, and he is a great man. He is a great man, and he is a great man. He is a great man, and he is a great man."

"Great Britain and Ireland salute their young sister, President Roosevelt, who is not only a great statesman, but a great man. He is a man who is a great man, and he is a great man. He is a great man, and he is a great man. He is a great man, and he is a great man."

"Great Britain and Ireland salute their young sister, President Roosevelt, who is not only a great statesman, but a great man. He is a man who is a great man, and he is a great man. He is a great man, and he is a great man. He is a great man, and he is a great man."

FERRYHOUSE SENT TOPPLING.

JERSEY CENTRAL BOAT PLOUGHS INTO WEST STREET.

Bumps the Liberty Street Slip Pretty Hard and Batters Half the Ancient Ferryhouse Askev—Police on Guard Last Night—Fall—Passer-by Hurt in Smash.

The Jersey Central's new ferryboat slipped a little harder than usual last night, with the result that she nearly landed her passengers in Broadway instead of in West street. Manhattan Island is pretty solid and that stopped her. The ferryhouse and fittings, which are ancient, did not help much. Some parts of them are left.

The ferryboat hit the end of the slip full in the center. The impact drove the heavy wooden bridge forward for nearly half its length, piled up the flooring beneath it in a heap at the entrance, tore up a strip of the paving of West street and left that side of the antiquated ferryhouse standing over the street at an angle of 30 degrees. One man who was passing the ferryhouse was injured. The passengers on the ferryboat were lucky enough to escape.

The Lakewood was on her 9:15 trip from the Jersey side. She was then to have tied up for the night in the slip which she had just left. The gate posts and gates were left more or less in a state of confusion. The ferryhouse was a very old one, and it was a very old one. It was a very old one, and it was a very old one.

The Lakewood was on her 9:15 trip from the Jersey side. She was then to have tied up for the night in the slip which she had just left. The gate posts and gates were left more or less in a state of confusion. The ferryhouse was a very old one, and it was a very old one. It was a very old one, and it was a very old one.

The Lakewood was on her 9:15 trip from the Jersey side. She was then to have tied up for the night in the slip which she had just left. The gate posts and gates were left more or less in a state of confusion. The ferryhouse was a very old one, and it was a very old one. It was a very old one, and it was a very old one.

The Lakewood was on her 9:15 trip from the Jersey side. She was then to have tied up for the night in the slip which she had just left. The gate posts and gates were left more or less in a state of confusion. The ferryhouse was a very old one, and it was a very old one. It was a very old one, and it was a very old one.

The Lakewood was on her 9:15 trip from the Jersey side. She was then to have tied up for the night in the slip which she had just left. The gate posts and gates were left more or less in a state of confusion. The ferryhouse was a very old one, and it was a very old one. It was a very old one, and it was a very old one.

The Lakewood was on her 9:15 trip from the Jersey side. She was then to have tied up for the night in the slip which she had just left. The gate posts and gates were left more or less in a state of confusion. The ferryhouse was a very old one, and it was a very old one. It was a very old one, and it was a very old one.

The Lakewood was on her 9:15 trip from the Jersey side. She was then to have tied up for the night in the slip which she had just left. The gate posts and gates were left more or less in a state of confusion. The ferryhouse was a very old one, and it was a very old one. It was a very old one, and it was a very old one.

The Lakewood was on her 9:15 trip from the Jersey side. She was then to have tied up for the night in the slip which she had just left. The gate posts and gates were left more or less in a state of confusion. The ferryhouse was a very old one, and it was a very old one. It was a very old one, and it was a very old one.

The Lakewood was on her 9:15 trip from the Jersey side. She was then to have tied up for the night in the slip which she had just left. The gate posts and gates were left more or less in a state of confusion. The ferryhouse was a very old one, and it was a very old one. It was a very old one, and it was a very old one.

The Lakewood was on her 9:15 trip from the Jersey side. She was then to have tied up for the night in the slip which she had just left. The gate posts and gates were left more or less in a state of confusion. The ferryhouse was a very old one, and it was a very old one. It was a very old one, and it was a very old one.

The Lakewood was on her 9:15 trip from the Jersey side. She was then to have tied up for the night in the slip which she had just left. The gate posts and gates were left more or less in a state of confusion. The ferryhouse was a very old one, and it was a very old one. It was a very old one, and it was a very old one.

The Lakewood was on her 9:15 trip from the Jersey side. She was then to have tied up for the night in the slip which she had just left. The gate posts and gates were left more or less in a state of confusion. The ferryhouse was a very old one, and it was a very old one. It was a very old one, and it was a very old one.

The Lakewood was on her 9:15 trip from the Jersey side. She was then to have tied up for the night in the slip which she had just left. The gate posts and gates were left more or less in a state of confusion. The ferryhouse was a very old one, and it was a very old one. It was a very old one, and it was a very old one.

The Lakewood was on her 9:15 trip from the Jersey side. She was then to have tied up for the night in the slip which she had just left. The gate posts and gates were left more or less in a state of confusion. The ferryhouse was a very old one, and it was a very old one. It was a very old one, and it was a very old one.

The Lakewood was on her 9:15 trip from the Jersey side. She was then to have tied up for the night in the slip which she had just left. The gate posts and gates were left more or less in a state of confusion. The ferryhouse was a very old one, and it was a very old one. It was a very old one, and it was a very old one.

The Lakewood was on her 9:15 trip from the Jersey side. She was then to have tied up for the night in the slip which she had just left. The gate posts and gates were left more or less in a state of confusion. The ferryhouse was a very old one, and it was a very old one. It was a very old one, and it was a very old one.

The Lakewood was on her 9:15 trip from the Jersey side. She was then to have tied up for the night in the slip which she had just left. The gate posts and gates were left more or less in a state of confusion. The ferryhouse was a very old one, and it was a very old one. It was a very old one, and it was a very old one.

The Lakewood was on her 9:15 trip from the Jersey side. She was then to have tied up for the night in the slip which she had just left. The gate posts and gates were left more or less in a state of confusion. The ferryhouse was a very old one, and it was a very old one. It was a very old one, and it was a very old one.

The Lakewood was on her 9:15 trip from the Jersey side. She was then to have tied up for the night in the slip which she had just left. The gate posts and gates were left more or less in a state of confusion. The ferryhouse was a very old one, and it was a very old one. It was a very old one, and it was a very old one.

The Lakewood was on her 9:15 trip from the Jersey side. She was then to have tied up for the night in the slip which she had just left. The gate posts and gates were left more or less in a state of confusion. The ferryhouse was a very old one, and it was a very old one. It was a very old one, and it was a very old one.

The Lakewood was on her 9:15 trip from the Jersey side. She was then to have tied up for the night in the slip which she had just left. The gate posts and gates were left more or less in a state of confusion. The ferryhouse was a very old one, and it was a very old one. It was a very old one, and it was a very old one.

The Lakewood was on her 9:15 trip from the Jersey side. She was then to have tied up for the night in the slip which she had just left. The gate posts and gates were left more or less in a state of confusion. The ferryhouse was a very old one, and it was a very old one. It was a very old one, and it was a very old one.

The Lakewood was on her 9:15 trip from the Jersey side. She was then to have tied up for the night in the slip which she had just left. The gate posts and gates were left more or less in a state of confusion. The ferryhouse was a very old one, and it was a very old one. It was a very old one, and it was a very old one.

The Lakewood was on her 9:15 trip from the Jersey side. She was then to have tied up for the night in the slip which she had just left. The gate posts and gates were left more or less in a state of confusion. The ferryhouse was a very old one, and it was a very old one. It was a very old one, and it was a very old one.

The Lakewood was on her 9:15 trip from the Jersey side. She was then to have tied up for the night in the slip which she had just left. The gate posts and gates were left more or less in a state of confusion. The ferryhouse was a very old one, and it was a very old one. It was a very old one, and it was a very old one.

VAGUE RUMOR OF COPPER DEAL.

A Story That Amalgamated Has Secured Calumet and Hecla.

When the Amalgamated Copper Company began reducing the price of copper after what had the appearance of a series of